

Blue Christmas

Press Release 12-8-16

As the holiday season approaches, do you find it difficult to be in the “holiday mood”? Is it hard to celebrate the birth of the Christ child when you are still in grief over the loss of a loved one? As a result, do you feel guilty? Bob Jarboe, spiritual counselor, will be leading a “Blue Christmas” service for those who are going through this struggle. It will be a time of remembrance of the loved ones who will not be with us this year. Traditionally held on the longest night of the year – December 21 – the service will begin at 7pm on Wednesday in the chapel at St. Anne’s Episcopal Church, 424 West Market Street in Warsaw. This service is sponsored by Kosciusko Home Care and Hospice. For more information contact Bob Jarboe at 574-372-3401.
